English

Unit 2 – Sport

WALT:

6Ug.12 Use an increasing range of modal forms.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms.

I can use “should”, “must” and “need to” give advice or instructions.

I can use “shouldn’t”, “mustn’t” and “don’t need” to give advice or instructions.

I can give reasons for my advice or instructions.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms.

.

Retrieval Practice –

On your whiteboards, write as many prepositions as you can.

You have 30 seconds.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

Starter – From the prepositions, which fits best?

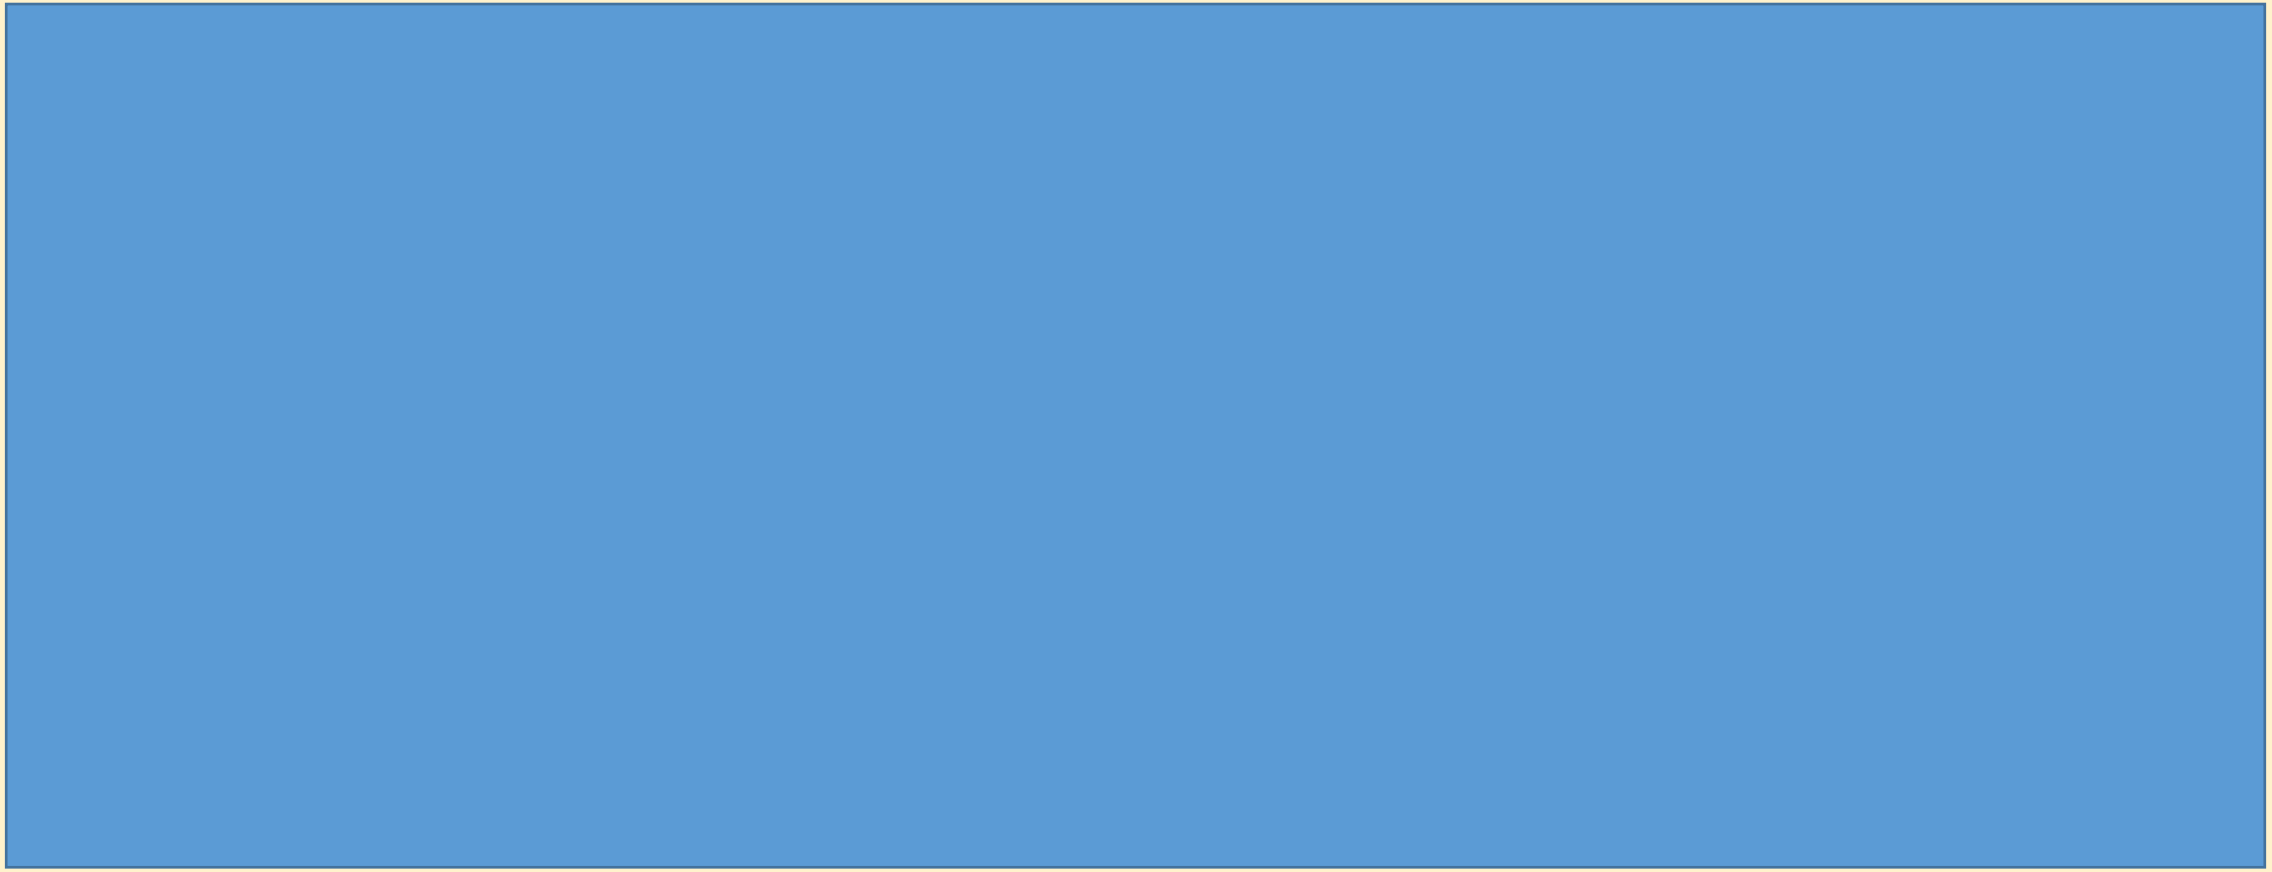

England is _____ to France.

The girl ran _____ the rain.

Vietnam is _____ China.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

TTYP – What is a modal verb?

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

Use of English – need / should / mustn't for advice and instructions

We use need when something is necessary:

First, we need to get your heart pumping...

We use should to give advice:

You should warm up your hips too...

We use mustn't to give strong advice against something:

You mustn't start running without warming up your leg muscles.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

Be careful when using mustn’t and don’t need.

Mustn’t is used to say you are not allowed to do something.

Example: You mustn’t run in the corridor.

Don’t need is used when you don’t have to do something but you can if you want.

Example: You don’t need to bring post it notes to school.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

Ought to

Ought to is also a modal verb.

Ought to is a way of saying ‘should’ and it tells us what is necessary to do.

You ought to clean up after you’ve finished eating lunch.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

Write some advice or instructions for your partner in your notebooks.

Use should, must, need to and ought to give a sequence of advice or instructions.
Example: You need to brush your teeth twice a day.

Include shouldn’t, mustn’t and don’t need in your advice or instructions.
Example: You shouldn’t eat too much chocolate.

Give reasons for your advice or instructions.
Example: You should exercise every day to make your body fit and strong.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

I can use “should”, “must” and “need to” give advice or instructions.

I can use “shouldn’t”, “mustn’t” and “don’t need” to give advice or instructions.

I can give reasons for my advice or instructions.

WALT: Use an increasing range of modal forms. Give a sequence of instructions.

Plenary

Share your sentences with your partner.

Can you spot their modal verbs?